Heavy rain throws life out of gear in West Bengal

Shrabana Chatterjee

KOLKATA

Incessant rain in southern districts of West Bengal in the last three days has caused severe waterlogging, and loss of habitat for many across the State. A "cyclonic circulation over north Bay of Bengal" has caused the rain, according to the weather office..

More than five houses were washed away in Laharpur village in Murshidabad after the banks on the Ganges collapsed. Some people have also lost their land to this river bank erosion.

Many parts of Kolkata were submerged on Saturday. Traffic was disrupted in several areas due to waterlogging. Low lying areas like Behala, Central Ave-

IMD advisory

IMD officials said there will be gushing wind of over 55 kmph above the Bay of Bengal in the coming two days. Fishermen have been asked to not venture into the sea.

There are also heavy to very heavy warnings of rain accompanied with thunderstorms for North 24 Parganas, South 24 Parganas, East & West Midnapore, Hooghly, Bankura, Birbhum, East Burdwan and West Burdwan districts over the next 24 hours.
